

Kamag Industrial Transporter Loading Bremerhaven 17th June 2014

On 17th June, Mitsui OSK Bulk Shipping (Europe) staff attended the loading of a Kamag Industrial Transporter at the port of Bremerhaven. Before loading, a technical study of the machine was undertaken. A computer simulation was executed by car carrier staff to ensure this 22 metre long, 6 metre wide behemoth could climb the ramp and manoeuvre in to position, whilst avoiding vessel pillars and other obstructions.

The machine was driven on board by a specialist KAMAG technician, under the watchful eyes of Bremerhaven stevedores and MOL staff and crew. The machine is now on passage to Singapore and will be delivered to the waiting customer in early July.

Loading of the unit can be seen via this link <..\..\..\..\MARINE\Kamag Transporter Loading.mp4>

MOL welcome any enquires for specialist cargo shipments. Loading and discharge of valuable time sensitive project cargo will always be undertaken with the greatest care and professional commitment.